

March 7 • School Board Meeting Recap

All Day Kindergarten enriches school experience

Assistant Superintendent Linda Boggs presented to school board members last night on the district's all day kindergarten program.

Now in its first full year districtwide, the program is already having a positive impact on academics according to Boggs. She said reading assessments indicated fewer students are at risk for literacy deficiencies.

She also said the program is popular with parents as only 12 out of approximately 400 students are participating in the district's half-day program.

The district offered a half-day program to meet the needs of families which prefer more time with their children during the daytime.

Boggs said the all day program enriches the school experience by allowing more time for the following:

- Poetry
- Drama
- Art
- Social Studies
- Physical activity
- Choice reading
- Journal writing
- Songs
- Science
- Health
- Handwriting
- Mixing native English and Spanish

Boggs said the all day program also has other benefits for students, teachers and families.

"The teachers know the parents better," Boggs said. "The environment is more relaxed and feels less rushed."

The district's Open Enrollment and Kindergarten Registration period is Monday, March 20 to Friday, March 31. Kindergarten registration will be conducted at the student's attendance area elementary school.

Classified School Employee Week March 13-17

Last night Deputy Superintendent Dr. Bill Jordan led a recognition presentation during the school board meeting for the district's classified employees in honor of Classified School Employee Week, March 13-17.

Public Schools Employees (PSE) President Larry McCauley and Vice President Mike Stroe were present to receive a proclamation from Governor Christine Gregoire recognizing and thanking classified employees for the outstanding work they are doing.

"These employees keep the system working," Jordan said. "We can't operate without their services."

Assistant Personnel Director Pat Johnston was also on hand to extend her thanks to these employees. She said she appreciates the leadership and professionalism McCauley and Stroe bring to their positions.
