Our Graduates of Distinction will serve as positive role models for current and future students. It is important for students to see how impressive their future accomplishments, both personal and professional, can be to our community and society. As we celebrate with our distinguished graduates and staff members, we also bring honor to Walla Walla Public Schools. Quality education is our past, present and future.

Church and Community Volunteer

Following his Walla Walla High School graduation, Robert Brunton attended Whitman College and was president of his 1957 senior class. Brunton also organized and led several surgical lens implant missions to the Kingdom of Tonga.

Despite a demanding medical career, Brunton found time to work with the Boys and Girls Clubs of Thurston County, Whitman College Alumni Board and Board of Overseers, and the St. Peter Hospital Foundation. Brunton has stayed active in St. John's Episcopal Church in Olympia. One of his nominators said "Bob works with a quiet self-confidence and assurance." ## Charlotte Wirth – Class of 1944

Inspirational Coach
Women's Sports Pioneer
Respected Community Member

Charlotte Wirth has devoted her life to teaching and caring for others. After graduating from Washington State University, she returned to Walla Walla and began teaching at Garrison Middle School in 1956, moving to Walla Walla High School, her alma mater, in 1964. During the 1960's and early 1970's, Wirth developed girls sports clubs in volleyball, basketball, track, tennis, and badminton. She made her own arrangements for practice, competition, equipment, uniforms, and travel. When Title IX became law and girls' sports were mandated, Wirth's teams were ready to go. Girls' volleyball and basketball teams under Wirth's capable direction quickly became regulars at state tournaments.

Wirth is a widely respected and celebrated coach, earning the Blue Mountain Coach of the Year award in 1978. According to one of her nominators, Wirth believed in the "Head and Heart Theory" of coaching. Many of Wirth's players have followed in her footsteps and become coaches themselves. These women attribute their success to Wirth's emphasis on discipline, drive, and dignified sportsmanship. Although Wirth retired in 1978, she continues to stay active in the Walla Walla community and to inspire the women she has coached.
