Why should schools avoid food-related fundraisers?

Schools encourage healthy eating habits by avoiding the cookie and candy bar sales as well as other unhealthy food-related fundraisers. Students’ lifelong eating habits are greatly influenced by the types of foods and beverages available to them. When unhealthy foods are sold “for a good cause,” students may think that such foods are a healthy part of a balanced diet. However, cookies and candy bars have little nutritional value, and using them in fundraisers contributes to poor eating habits.

... about Fundraising

School fundraising activities should support healthy lifestyles. Thus, schools should use nonfood fundraisers, healthy food fundraisers, and physical activity fundraisers.

The sale of food or beverages for fundraisers should not take place until after the end of the last lunch period.
