

National teaching certifications awarded

Walla Walla teachers Susan Bauer (Garrison), Susan Schulz (Garrison), Shannon Ahrens (Garrison), Kim Kelsay (Pioneer) and Charlene Maib (Pioneer) have received certification through the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards.

Tuesday night Superintendent Rich Carter and School Board President Mary Jo Geidl presented the recipients with special pins recognizing their achievements. Carter said these educators bring honor to the district through their high level of professionalism and dedication.

Certification requirements include: authoring a detailed professional portfolio, video taping classroom instruction and passing a challenging assessment to test subject knowledge.

These teachers earn a 10-year certificate. The district now has a total of 29 teachers with national professional teaching certificates. Fellow Walla Walla educators Gayle See and Cindy Nass mentored these teachers. There are currently 1,807 teaching in the state.

Berney Elementary principal resigns

Walla Walla Public Schools Board of Directors accepted the resignation of Berney Elementary Principal David Talley last night.

The resignation is effective at the end of the 2008-2009 school year. He was hired by Walla Walla Public Schools May 15, 2001. Talley says he's ready to pursue other professional opportunities -- most notably online education.

District continues to cut energy usage and expenses

Last night District Energy Management Program Director John Butenhoff reported the district has cut energy usage 21 percent and saved $2.4 million since the program started nine years ago. This year alone the district has saved more than $250,000 to offset constant rate increases for electricity, water, and natural gas.

Butenhoff says staff diligence makes the difference by monitoring and adjusting energy use.

Wa-Hi principal to study facilities improvement options

Don't be surprised if you get a call from Walla Walla High School Principal Darcy Weisner this winter as he leads a project to further study high school facilities improvement options.

Weisner plans to schedule weekly meetings with business leaders, meet with parent associations, visit district schools and speak to service groups about their thoughts on recommendations developed last year by the High School Facilities Task Force.

District spending linked to goals

Last night district Chief Financial Officer Pat Johnston provided the school board with the 07-08 year end financial report.

Johnston highlighted how district finances are prioritized and linked to the district's strategic plan goals. The district remains fiscally sound. She said conservative budgeting, including not spending more than we have, will help as the district faces more state cuts.
