Walla Walla High School Facilities Improvement Plan Public Survey

Walla Walla Public Schools seeks public input on its high school facilities improvement plan. A survey is now available on the district website: www.wwps.org

The Community Facilities Task Force chaired by citizen volunteer Dan Reid has listed Walla Walla High School and Lincoln High School as the top priorities for district facilities improvements. The school district passed a bond for a new Edison Elementary School in 2007 and is now seeking input on Walla Walla High School and Lincoln High School. Both schools have significant facility needs. Improved classrooms, science labs, enhanced technology and outdated heating and cooling systems are among the greatest needs. Your input is highly valued and all responses will be reviewed by Superintendent Mick Miller. Thank you for taking time to learn more about this important issue.

National School Bus Safety Week - October 22-26 by Steve Olson, Transportation Director

School Bus Safety: I am writing to let everyone know the week of October 22-26, 2012 is NATIONAL SCHOOL BUS SAFETY WEEK. Walla Walla School District school buses transport over 2,500 students total each day to and from school. Safety of all students is our number one priority. Our drivers, bus aides, mechanics, and office support staff receive extensive training in all areas vital to each position to assure the safety all students. Walla Walla School District buses travel a total of more than 350,000 miles annually and are subject to mandatory state inspections bi-annually.

This year's focus for National School Bus Safety week is the "DANGER ZONE" around the school bus for students. The Danger Zone is the space all around the school bus. It extends out ten feet in all directions from the bus. It is very difficult for the driver to see students in this zone. It is especially important when the bus is at student bus stops. As you go about your daily business, please be aware of students traveling to and from school, whether it be on a school bus, walking, or bicycling. Everyone plays a part in student safety when traveling roadways. When you are in a hurry and you "GET CAUGHT BEHIND A SCHOOL BUS", please take a deep breath and remember keeping students safe is the number one priority.

October is "National Farm to School Month"

This month Nutrition Services will be featuring locally grown plums in four varieties in school lunches: Italian, Simka, Empress, and Frias. Plums will be garden bars through the end of the month. Other locally grown food will also be featured.

District joins area Realtors for "Care and Share" Food Drive this weekend

Walla Walla Public Schools is teaming with area realtors to help those in need through the "Care and Share" annual food drive. There are many ways for parents, students and staff to get involved. All donations help the Blue Mountain Action Council Food Bank. Demand remains high. Peter Swant is the project coordinator: pswant@cbfr.biz

Here's how you can help:

- "Fill the Bus" drive at area grocery stores: Saturday, Oct. 20 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.
- Pick a section of town to distribute bags to area homes and then collect them the following day (Oct. 20 & 21)
- Donate food during Walla Walla High School home football games
- Donate food at all district schools (collection barrels are now in place)

Green Park Intervention Specialist Ian Gregoire says Julian was a perfect fit for this award.

Big Blue Weekend Thank You - By Coordinators Kristina Duncan and Carina Stillman

As we work to gather the names of all who were involved with Big Blue Weekend 2012, we continue to be inspired by the school and community support for this event. This year over 375 students attended Big Blue Weekend, and over 150 scholarships were awarded. Including volunteers, our total number of participants was about 440--this is outstanding! Unfortunately, however, for the first time in six years, we had to turn away students who registered on time. While we probably could have ordered another bus to hold the 50 plus students who wished to attend, we simply did not have enough volunteers to chaperone and/or participate on work crew at such a short notice. Our goal for this next year is to develop partnerships with community organizations that may be able to help us recruit volunteers. We feel that Big Blue Weekend has truly become part of what we do here at Walla Walla High School, and we look forward to seeing how we can grow our capacity for future years. Big Blue Weekend 2013 will be October 4-6—Save the Date!

Sharpstein Elementary garden wraps up another productive year

Sharpstein students at each grade level have had an opportunity to plant, harvest and taste something from the school garden. From carrots to cucumbers, salad tasting, salsa making, pumpkin muffins, and roasted pumpkin seeds, it's been a busy year in the garden. The fifth graders recently harvested and prepared more than 50 pounds of potatoes that they served to the whole school at lunch. A garden clean-up project is scheduled for Saturday, October 27 from 1-3 p.m. Families are encouraged to come and work together to get the garden ready for the winter. Thanks to all who have helped keep the garden going this year!

FFA team travels to national competition in Indianapolis

In May, Walla Walla High School Future Farmers of America dominated in both the Food Science and Veterinary Science Career Development Events at the State FFA Convention in Pullman, WA. The team included Ashley Ramsey, Peter Siron, Megan Wright, Drew Swenson, Allie Juergenson, Addie Chapman, Alexis Hughes, Sadee Long and Kayla Stewart.

The purpose of the veterinary science career development event is to promote college and career readiness by providing opportunities to develop technical knowledge and demonstrate practical skills in the field of veterinary science. The food science and technology career development event is designed to promote learning activities in food science and technology related to the food industry and to assist students in developing practical knowledge of principles used in a team decision-making process.

Along with those competing, Samantha Zuger auditioned and was accepted to sing in the National FFA Choir. Next week the team will travel to Indianapolis, IN to compete along side more than 50,000 FFA members from around the country at the National FFA Convention.

"All of our students worked hard and demonstrated that they are the best in the state," said FFA Advisor Lindsey Butcher. "Now, they have the opportunity to compete against students from across the country at one of the largest youth gatherings in the world."
